Kent and Medway’s Domestic and Sexual Abuse Strategy 2024-2029 is being developed, following on from and taking learnings from the previous 2020-2023 strategy. The objective of this activity is to develop a collaborative domestic abuse strategy that encompasses the vision of partners across Kent and Medway and holds the feedback that we have received from people who have experienced abuse central to its aims.

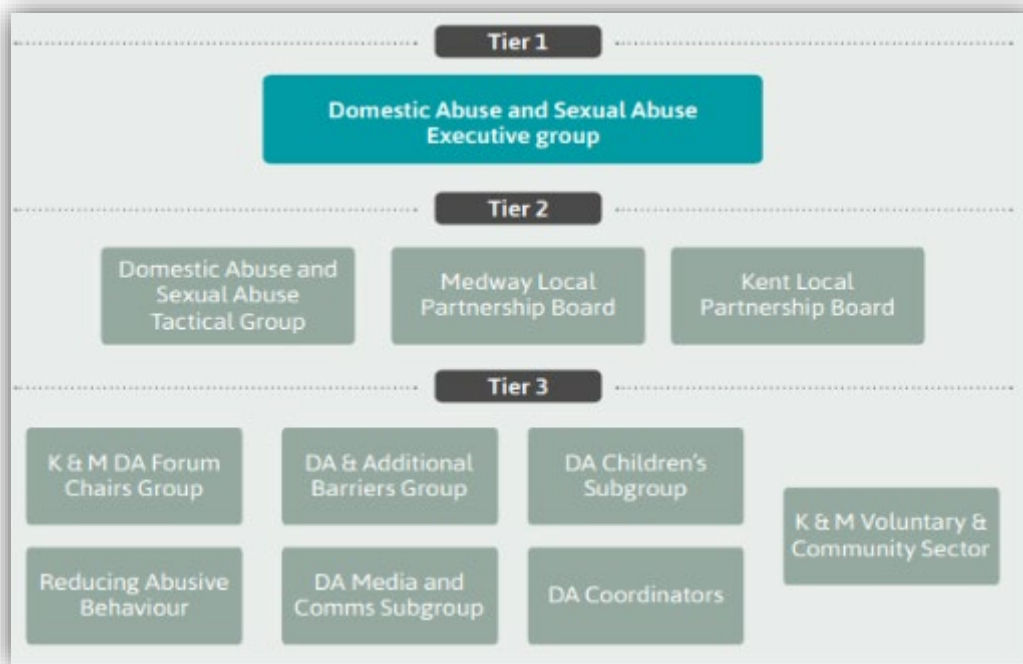

The strategy will be developed with a multi-agency approach, bringing together a range of statutory agencies including Kent County Council, Medway Council, Kent Police, the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner, NHS ICB, Kent Fire and Rescue Service, the National Probation Service, DWP, and Kent’s district and borough councils.

The strategy will provide a joint statement across the Kent and Medway Domestic Abuse and Sexual Abuse Executive.

Domestic abuse works across the following structure.

1. The Kent and Medway Domestic and Sexual Abuse Executive Group. This group leads and sets the partnership’s Domestic Abuse Strategy, it’s priorities and oversees action to ensure their delivery.
2. The Kent and Medway Domestic and Sexual Abuse Tactical board delivers the joint action plans generated from the strategy and report back to the Executive Group.
3. The Kent Local Partnership Board is the only statutory body and works to ensure that Kent meets its requirements in relation to the Domestic Abuse Act.
4. Medway has a parallel Local Partnership Board which oversees the statutory requirements for Medway.

Supporting this are a number of groups including the Voluntary Sector Subgroup and local domestic abuse forums.

The aims set out in the newly developed strategy will be managed by the Executive Group and taken forward through the Tier 2 and 3 structure.

This multiagency structure has been set out because we know that domestic abuse is a prolific and cross cutting issue. Approximately 10% of the calls (34,000) received by Kent Police relate to domestic abuse. Domestic abuse related crimes make up 21% of the total recorded crime in Kent, and around half of all non-crimes.¹

Nationally nearly half a million people experiencing domestic abuse seek assistance from medical professionals every year & the number of households in Kent owed prevention or relief duty due to DA has steadily increased since the COVID pandemic. The people affected need to find the right response, whichever agency they approach for help.

The development of the strategy will help to set out Kent and Medway's joint vision, priorities and commitments to reduce the levels of domestic abuse, and ensure that where domestic abuse does take place, all those affected get the right support, quickly. The strategy will support agencies and partnerships to design and deliver the most appropriate responses to anyone affected by domestic abuse in Kent and Medway.

Summary of Key Findings:

This equality impact assessment suggests that the development of the strategy will have a positive impact on those with protected characteristics by highlighting different experiences of abuse and seeking an active outcome from partners to improve delivery of service to everyone.

The development of the strategy has included engagement with a range of professionals involved in providing services to people who may be experiencing abuse. This has taking place via workshops, one to one meetings with partners and through feedback sought throughout the Domestic and Sexual Abuse governance structure. This includes but is not limited to the Domestic and Sexual Abuse Tactical Group, the District DA Coordinators, the nine Domestic Abuse Forums, the Domestic Abuse Forum Chairs Group and Voluntary Sector Groups. Through this the following partners and teams have consulted at a number of levels: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • KCC Adult Safeguarding • KCC Children's Safeguarding • KCC Early Help • Medway Council • Kent Police • The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner • NHS ICB Safeguarding • Kent Fire and Rescue Service • the National Probation Service • Kent's district and borough councils • The voluntary and community sector We also want to ensure that people who have experienced abuse are able to input into the strategy in a meaningful way. Eleven in depth interviews with people who have experienced abuse took place via the Kent Domestic Abuse Research programme, with a further 43 responding to a survey to identify what worked well, and what didn't, in their journeys and to identify their priority areas. These experiences have formed the basis of the strategy. This will be supported by an 11-week public consultation to allow for broad input and feedback on the draft strategy. Throughout this process we will be attending meetings and engaging community groups and forums such as health and learning disability forums as well as working with the ASCH engagement teams to promote feedback at events. This will be further supported through promotion of the consultation on KCC and Medway social media platforms and newsletters. A video to support engagement with the consultation will be shared widely, social media posts will also be shared via the Kent & Medway Media and Communications group and mailing list to ensure the broadest possible response base.

Age Domestic abuse can affect anybody, but we know that the impact is different for different groups. Age affects the way domestic abuse is experienced and responded to. Children have now been recognised in law as victims of the abuse between care givers. At the other end of the spectrum, we know that older people are disproportionately represented in Domestic Homicides and underrepresented in our commissioned services. Please see supplementary information for further information. The strategy: Whilst developing the strategy, consideration was given to how people affected by abuse of all ages can be better supported in Kent and Medway. The strategy recognises children who see, hear, or experience the effects of domestic abuse as victims in their own right, as stated in the Domestic Abuse Act 2021. This strategy will not explore abuse directed to people under 16 years as, under the governmental definition of abuse, this would be determined as child abuse under the Childrens and Young Persons Act 1933. The strategy does aim to address concerns about the impact of domestic abuse on children and young people and how this impacts their own intimate relationships and family bonds. It also considers domestic abuse experienced by older people, and how the underreporting of abuse from this group should be addressed.

Disability

Data collected by SafeLives suggests that people with a disability are more likely to experience domestic abuse than those who do not have a disability, experience it for longer before seeking help and are more likely to still be experiencing abuse at the end of service.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

The strategy recognises the role of disability in people's experiences of abuse and its intersectionality with other protected characteristics.

The strategy seeks to address barriers to pursuing and accessing support as well as seeking to understand why outcomes for people with a disability fall below those of non disabled clients. The strategy will seek to promote collaboration between expert domestic abuse services and expert disability services, developing a particular focus on advancing a 'by and for' market in Kent & Medway.

During the strategy consultation consideration will be given for how to make the strategy document as accessible as possible, producing BSL and Easy Read versions and eliciting feedback from disability forums, groups and organisations.

Sex

For the year ending March 2022, the Crime Survey for England and Wales (CSEW) estimated that 1.7 million women and 699,000 men aged 16 years and over experienced domestic abuse in the last year. This is a prevalence rate of approximately 7 in 100 women and 3 in 100 men.² However, we know that the majority of those experiencing high risk abuse are women. In the year ending March 2022, the victim was female in 74.1% of domestic abuse-related crimes. Between the year ending March 2019 and the year ending March 2021, 72.1% of victims of domestic homicide were female compared with 12.3% of victims of non-domestic homicide.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

The strategy is gender informed, acknowledging that the majority of high harm abuse is perpetrated by men and experienced by women. However, the strategy also recognises that the numbers of men reporting domestic abuse are increasing, and that there are additional barriers to men reporting domestic abuse based on social expectations. Men's services will be consulted with during the consultation to ensure their voices and experiences can help shape the strategy. The needs of both men and women should be catered to by a Domestic Abuse Strategy for Kent & Medway.

We also know that the harm caused by a perpetrator of abuse is felt widely in family networks, not just by the primary victim and children. The strategy will support the development of services which work to understand the needs of the whole family. The strategy will prioritise building services that are accessible and responsive to the broad range of need experienced for people of any gender.

Gender identity/Transgender

Although data is reasonably limited on the level of domestic abuse experienced by transgender people, it is known that transgender people experience additional barriers to reporting abuse and accessing services. It is essential that service provision recognises the needs of transgender people.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

Transgender people experience additional barriers to reporting abuse, and therefore have particular support needs. It will be considered when developing the strategy how Kent and Medway's domestic abuse response could better recognise the needs of those with this protected characteristic. The strategy promotes clarity from partners and providers that they are accessible to transgender people and that the services recognise a person's current gender.

Race

The Office of National Statistics has found that there is no significant difference in the prevalence of domestic abuse across different ethnic groups.³ However, statistical analysis (shown in attached evidence) suggests there may be significant under reporting of DA from those in minoritized communities.

The largest ethnic group in Kent is White. 93.7% of all residents are of white ethnic origin, and 6.6% from another ethnic group. The largest single minoritized community in Kent is Indian representing 1.2% of the total population.⁴

Very little information is available about gypsy and traveller communities and domestic abuse, however there is a need to work with this community to increase awareness of the services and support available to those experiencing domestic abuse.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

When creating the strategy, consideration was given to ensuring services are culturally sensitive and actively promote themselves to all groups. This will include working with services for people affected by abuse from a wide range of communities and organisations to ensure the strategy will have a positive impact on victims and survivors from minority groups.

The strategy promotes work to address the under reporting of domestic abuse within minoritized communities and will seek to develop opportunities to promote service provision by 'By & For' services that have culturally specific knowledge and can build trust within minoritized communities.

The strategy should also prioritise developing community networks domestic abuse knowledge, building confidence in talking about and addressing abuse. This work should ensure community networks from across the protected characteristics are proactively engaged in projects.

Religion, Belief & Culture

62.5% of Kent residents describe themselves as Christian, whilst the largest non - Christian religious group is Muslim (1%).⁵ We know that people's religion, culture and beliefs can be used by the abusive person to exert power and control. This can include 'honour' based violence and forced marriage as well as impacting on the tactics used within abusive relationships.

There are no Kent and Medway specific statistics available on forced marriage or 'honour' based abuse (HBV). However, DHR lessons learnt have highlighted the importance of understanding how abuse is impacted by culture to better equip staff to question and sensitively explore aspects of people's culture to ensure people experience a consistently robust safeguarding.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

We recognise HBV as an intersecting issue between culture and religion and that increasing understanding of its root in each case can lead to better outcomes for individuals. The strategy draws attention to honour-based violence (HBV) including forced marriage as part of domestic abuse as well as promoting culturally aware responses from across the partnership.

The strategy should identify ways to work with local communities and with our partners to continue to challenge these behaviours.

Sexual Orientation

Statistics suggest that people in same sex relationships are just as likely as those in heterosexual relationships to experience domestic abuse (please see attached additional information). The Office of National Statistics has found that bisexual women are nearly twice as likely to have experienced partner abuse in the last 12 months than heterosexual women (10.9% compared with 6.0%).⁶

Gay, lesbian and bisexual people may experience additional barriers to reporting abuse, for example through fear of 'outing', fear of stigma from service providers or uncertainty around what provision is available. They may also have to challenge the view of domestic abuse as occurring only within heterosexual contexts.

These contribute to the significant underreporting of abuse within LGBTQ relationships.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

The strategy acknowledges the need to ensure that support is available for everyone experiencing abuse, and that support services can be tailored to the needs of people in the context of their protected characteristics, including sexual orientation.

Pregnancy & Maternity

Although there appears to be a lack of recent figures on domestic abuse, pregnancy and maternity, it has been established that pregnancy can be a trigger for domestic abuse to commence or escalate and also a time when survivors may be at elevated risk.

Please see supplementary information for further information.

The strategy:

The NHS, and public health (health visiting service) are part of the Kent and Medway Domestic and Sexual Abuse Executive Group and therefore part of the upcoming strategy's governance processes. The strategy will consider how services that come into contact with pregnant people can improve their responses to domestic abuse.
